

Master of Business Administration International

INTERNATIONAL 2024

The business world has dramatically changed since the Covid-19 pandemic began. Our reliance on technology has become more prominent than ever, not just to communicate with each other but to continue to operate businesses on global scale. From increased automation to rapid advancements in global digital infrastructure, companies are being forced to either transform the way they operate or risk falling behind.

This drastic change of pace has meant that the role of traditional leadership in the workplace has shifted. Where managers may have previously operated as solo-decision makers or 'hero leaders', there is now a demand for more inclusive, compassionate, and collaborative styles of leadership.

By studying the MBA, you'll explore how traditional notions of business are being recalibrated for a new 'business as usual'.
