Why Study at UCSH

The University of Canberra Sydney Hills (UCSH) is a modern campus located in Castle Hill that offers domestic and international students undergraduate and postgraduate health and education qualifications.

The new campus is conveniently located in Sydney's northwest – about 9 km from Parramatta, 18 km from Chatswood, and 20 km from Sydney CBD. Within walking distance of the campus are restaurants, cafes, retail shops, and public transport.

The Sydney Hills, with Norwest Business Park at its heart, is one of Sydney's hidden gems for business. With a rapidly growing economy, it is fast becoming known as an elite service hub for businesses providing professional and financial services to companies across Western Sydney. Sydney Hills has a major employment node located near brand-new homes and planned neighbourhoods, some of the state's top schools, and offers a relaxed lifestyle surrounded by parks, gardens, and bushland.
