ACEQCA Accreditation

Our program is accredited by the Australian Children's Education & Care Quality Authority (ACECQA), the national body responsible for ensuring high-quality standards in children's education and care services.

ACECQA supports the education and care sector by overseeing the National Quality Framework (NQF), which sets the minimum qualification requirements for educators working in early childhood settings.

An ACECQA-approved qualification ensures that graduates meet the necessary standards to work in family day care or centre-based services with preschool-aged children. In some cases, individuals can start working while actively working towards an approved qualification, making it a valuable step toward a career in early childhood education.

Filling the early childhood workforce gaps

In South Australia, the shortage in early childhood education and care services is particularly acute. More than a quarter of services don't have a qualified teacher in a designated role. Regional and remote communities continue to face exacerbated workforce challenges..

The Government of South Australia is investing $56 million in the early childhood education and care workforce. Initiatives will support attraction, qualification pathways, retention and quality.

Creating a pipeline for more early childhood teachers and educators

The government is also moving to allow the registration of early childhood teachers holding a qualification recognised by Australian Children's Education and Care Quality Authority (ACECQA), including 3-year degrees, for teaching children aged birth to 5, to bring more existing teachers into the sector and allow specialisation in early childhood.

Kindly refer to Government of South Australia page for the information above: Growing and supporting the early childhood workforce | Office for Early Childhood Development
